During Elba City Council meeting

City clerk provides update on trash pickup

by Linda Hodge, Editor

During the Elba City Council meeting held Monday evening, Jan. 23, City Clerk Sally Bane provided an update report on trash pickup for the city.

Bane said the street department began reporting daily to her on the trash pickup following the Jan. 9th council meeting.

"The street department is reporting each morning to me what streets were picked up the day prior," she said. "They began doing this the day after our last council meeting."

Council member Jane Brunson inquired as to "how far" the department had gotten with the pickup

CCSO deputies arrest Elba man on drug/attempt to elude charges

Deputies with the Coffee County Sheriff's Office [CCSO] arrested an Elba man last weekend on a possession charge along with attempting to elude officers.

According to Coffee County Jail records, James McCormick, age 54, of Elba was arrested Friday night, Jan. 27, by CCSO deputies and booked into the jail just after 7 p.m. He was charged with possession of a controlled substance [$5,000 bond] and attempting to elude — no injury [$1,500 bond].

McCormick was released Sunday, Jan. 29, at 11:45 a.m. after posting bond.

Coffee County Commissioners handle several routine matters during meeting

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Coffee County Commission meeting held Monday morning, Jan. 23, was a routine meeting with mostly 'housekeeping' matters being discussed and approved.

County engineer Marty Lentz presented two different matters for commissioners to consider, and he received the approval not to move forward with each item.

Lentz received permission to advertise for sale an F150 truck chassis on GovDeals.com. He also received permission to place two John Deere tractors with boom cutters for sale in the JM Wood Auction set for March.

Environmental services director Mike Thornton also had a few items to present to commissioners for approval.

He received permission to purchase six 40-yard roll off cans from the joint bid purchasing agreement. The total amount of purchase for this budgeted item is $50,152.36.

Thornton also received approval from commissioners to surplus for sale several roll off cans and two 2005 model roll off trucks on GovDeals.com. He said the roll off trucks were the first purchased when the county began its roll off service.

A bid from Thompson Tractor in the amount $22,968.88 was approved for the repair of a piece of equipment located at the landfill.

Sheriff Scott Byrd and Coroner Arnold Woodham both attended their first county commission meeting since taking office, and each thanked the commission for welcoming them.

"I'm still getting it all together, but I thank you for your open arms and welcome shown to me," Sheriff Byrd said. "I have a great staff."

Woodham said the commission had been great to work with thus far. He added to that saying Coffee County has a major asset in county administrator Rod Morgan.

Mark Parker named CEC President and CEO

After nearly 36 years at Covington Electric Cooperative, Mark Parker will succeed longtime leader, Charles "Ed" Short, as president and chief executive officer on Feb. 1, 2023.

Parker has played a pivotal role in the growth of the cooperative throughout the past three decades, including working as director of member services, vice president of member relations, staff assistant and vice president of information technology. Most recently, he served as senior vice president and chief operating officer.

A south Alabama native, he earned his certificate in industrial electricity technology from Douglas MacArthur State Technical College and a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Troy State Dothan. Parker also completed the Robert I. Kabat Management Internship program through the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

"I've been heavily involved in the implementation of several new technologies, including the first CEC computer networks, billing systems, the pre-pay program, the dispatch system and the Buzz Broadband project," said Parker. "I want to thank the board of trustees for this opportunity. I'm eager to lead CEC as we work together to find ways we can be more efficient with our technology and provide the best possible service at the most affordable cost."

Parker and his wife, Teri, have two grown children and will soon welcome their fourth granddaughter. They have been married 38 years.

Outside of CEC, he's

LARGE SPILL AT THE PUMP...Tuesday morning, Jan. 31, many traveling through downtown Elba on their commute to work found a portion of Claxton Avenue blocked due to a gas spill at the RS Lord Marathon store [often referred to as Mr. Henry's]. Reportedly, a customer had started the pump to add gasoline to his vehicle, and the customer had left the nozzle unattended when it fell from the vehicle spilling some 15-20 gallons of gasoline onto the ground before the pump was stopped. The Elba Volunteer Fire Department was dispatched to help clean up the potential fire hazard. As shown above, the gas was covered with dirt to help absorb it from the ground. Also responding to the scene to assist with traffic control was the Elba Police Department.

EES leadership team addresses Elba BOE members

by Linda Hodge, Editor

*Editor's Note: This is the second part of a three-part series from the Elba Board of Education meeting held Tuesday, Jan. 17, where presentations were made regarding the schools' testing scores.

The Elba Elementary School ACAP Leadership Team presentation Tuesday evening, Jan. 17, to Elba City School Board members provided information on several different categories to help board members better understand the challenges teachers face in the classroom as they prepare students for state testing.

"Thank you all for everything you do and how you support us," EES principal Kenya Martin said as she opened the presentation. "I want to encourage you to come down and visit us more. We would love to see you in the building. We want you to come down and see what we are doing. We are proud of what we are doing and accomplishing so far."

Martin said last school year's ACAP state testing results for the elementary school [tests were taken in March and results released publicly in November] showed a 71 overall score for Elba Elementary School. "We are not proud of that at all, and we want to see that increase," Martin said. "We look forward to improving our scores and hope our test scores this time reflect the effort we are putting into it."

Much like the high school, Martin said in-house diagnostic testing through the i-Ready® program already is showing positive results for growth in reading and math across the board for the school.

Martin said the elementary school leadership team is comprised of Leigh Wicker, Sasha O'Neal, Anna Marie Moore, Kayla Harrison, Kim Wilson, Melissa Grantham, Kelly Wilson, Rachel Morrow, and Jennifer Moseley.

The ACAP tests grades the elementary school levels on three main areas — academic achievement, academic growth, and chronic absenteeism. The last time state test results were released prior to last year [in 2019 due to the COVID pandemic], chronic absenteeism was not even counted in the scores, according to Martin.

"So, we got that added challenge for 2022," she said regarding absenteeism.

ism. "Our baseline score for this in 2022 was 21.56 percent. We hope to see that decrease this year."

In 2019, she said EES had an academic achievement score of 60.53 percent, and that dropped to 56.53 in 2022. For academic growth, she said the school dropped from 95.72 percent in 2019 to 81.32 in 2022.

"So...what happened?" Martin said. "There were some contributing factors."

Martin was hired as the Elba Elementary School principal in June prior to the start of the 2021/2022 school year, and she said there were several teacher positions yet to be filled at EES when she took that job. She had previously been the school's guidance counselor, which meant a new person also would be stepping into that position for the school year.

Martin said Elba Elementary School ended up having a first year principal, first year guidance counselor, first year reading specialist, first year interventionist, and new teachers in every grade level [K-6] last school year.

"That was a big, big change," she said. "There is a learning curve that comes when you take over a job in the first year. It doesn't matter if you are a teacher or a lawyer. You learn a lot in that first year, and boy, did we learn a lot last year."

Teacher turnover also contributed.

"We had a lot of teacher turnover," Martin said. "When I came into the principal's position, it was, middle of June. Usually when you start hiring, it is around April/May. So, we were already behind there."

Another major problem that she said affected the elementary school's ACAP scores last year was COVID. She followed this statement up with some statistics of her own.

Martin said she pulled some data on classroom attendance, and it revealed there were 3,894 student absences last year.

"That is a lot of absences, whether it was COVID, going to the doctor or whatever," Martin said. "We knew we had to do something about that number, and we are tackling that challenge."

Also, she said there were a lot of teacher absences last

The greatest glory in living lies not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall. — Nelson Mandela

Former South Carolina governor and Ambassador to the United Nations Nikki Haley and Florida Governor Ron DeSantis have been the subject of attacks and criticism from some of their fellow Republicans and their staff over the past few weeks. It appears the attackers want the two out of contention for the Republican nomination for President in 2024, leaving former president Donald Trump as the only viable candidate. That is not the way our system of government was established. Each of us have a right to offer for public office (even though many of US are not at all qualified to lead anything!).

Personally, we are not impressed with most of the people who have been mentioned as potential candidates for president in 2024. Part of that is social media has done such a good job of informing us that none of them is 'holier than thou', or maybe just that they are human with human flaws and not the super heroes we once classified our national leaders.

Guinea worm . . . went from 3-5 million a year in 1986, to 13 last year in Africa. President Jimmy Carter and his wife Rosalynn lead a project that has almost eradicated the disease in Africa. (Carter Center Guinea Worm Eradication Program). This is the type things we think our past presidents should be doing with their time and influence!!

The abuse and killing of a black motorist, Tyre Nichols, in Memphis, Tennessee is shocking to say the least. Apparently, he had done nothing wrong and was killed by a group of five Memphis police officers, themselves also black. Firing the guilty officers was the right thing to do, but alas it will not help Nichols. We have seen some headlines that called the events 'racial'. That confuses us as our understanding of racial is something involving more than one race of human beings, which this apparently was not. Regardless of that element, we shudder to think that 'victim could have been any one of us! It was gratifying to read the release from the Alabama Sheriff's Association that condemned the action of the five (now former) law enforcement officers and stressed that Alabama Sheriffs strive to hire only qualified officers and weed out those already employed who don't demonstrate the goals of the department.

The United States is again at the official debt limit and can't float any bonds. . . . which in Elba terms means they can't borrow any more money. However, once the politicians in Washington all get to speak with bluster before the national press, they will vote to increase that limit. Of course the national debt is already over 30 TRILLION, so what is the big deal about another billion or so here and there?

It is interesting to ponder what the actions of the government officials would be if their pay were to be frozen until they did something about the debt limit! It falls in the category of declaring war . . . the officials do the declaring and the rest of us do the warring. Here they threaten to not make Social Security payments, pay the military, etc., but their checks are deposited into their accounts right on schedule — without hesitation!

Be safe, wear your mask when appropriate, social distance, wash your hands AND get the shot(s) and/or boosters (the newest one)!

Elba Police Chief give stats update for 2022

During his report to the Elba City Council, Police Chief Troy Staley said his department issued 853 traffic citations in 2022, along with 648 written warnings. He said the department made 327 total arrests on the year. "So far this year, we are still looking for a few good men and women to fill some vacancies," Staley said.

As for Project Sunbeam, Maddox said things seem to be moving along with the potential business as well. He said the business owner is still very interested in locating in Elba.

Without providing any specifics due to the nature of the projects, the mayor did say he feels pretty good about both projects.

Mayor Maddox said one contractor had looked at the Davis Street property for potential renovations for the Elba Chamber of Commerce office, but as of the meeting, the city still had not heard back from that contractor. However, he added that he had been in contact with another contractor interested in coming to look at the project.

"Maybe one of them will work out," the mayor said. A review of the November and December financial reports did not go as well as the council had hoped. Several mistakes were noted as the mayor reviewed the reports with council members.

"I apologize for it not being correct," Mayor Maddox said at one point during the review. "But, this is the first financial report we have had in several months."

Council member Brunson said it did not really matter that the council had a report to review if there are too many errors in it for it to be reliable.

"The whole problem is — I don't know what is right and what is wrong," she said. "You basically have no confidence. Sorry, but that is just the bottom line."

Maddox said he would accept responsibility for not getting to it before the meeting. He said hopefully the issues would be corrected before the next council meeting and a more accurate report be provided to the council.

Sister just knew her day for "payback" had arrived last week when she escorted Suzin Lou Lou to a medical facility where Lou Lou would be undergoing a couple of medical tests; however, joke was on Sister...again!

Sister did get a small laugh off Lou Lou when they first arrived at the center. The tests Lou Lou would be undergoing required her to change from her clothes to a hospital gown and socks only. The nurse returned to the pre-op room a bit quicker than Lou Lou had expected, which meant she had not made it to the point of sitting snugly on her bed with a blanket wrapped around her.

As the nurse was asking a few more 'get ready' questions, Lou Lou was scurrying to get herself in the bed to make sure everything was covered up properly; but in the process of trying to move quickly, she totally forgot about things being exposed at the back of the hospital gown.

Long story short...Sister had to grab the gown and pull the side together to keep Lou Lou from shining the poor, unsuspecting nurse!

It wasn't until a few minutes after the nurse had left the room that Lou Lou realized what she almost did! Fortunately, Sister assured her she had come to the rescue and grabbed the gown to avoid the embarrassing moment. Lou Lou is not sure exactly "who" Sister was trying to save from embarrassment... most likely herself!

While Sister did manage to get a couple of black-mail photos of Lou Lou during her experience, she unfortunately missed out on the best photo ops. All the good stuff happened after Lou Lou was carted off to the exam room, and she was already awake and back to herself before Sister was called to come see her in recovery!

Oh well...maybe another day Sister!

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling.

year too. She said teachers had to be out because they had COVID or someone in their family had COVID. She said staff absences last years were 958 at the elementary school.

"What do you do when you don't have people to go in places?" she asked. "You start pulling them from other places like music, the library, intervention. If push came to shove, I was in a classroom covering. Everybody was working to cover classrooms."

Martin said all that played into the state test scores.

"There was a lot of covering and not necessarily teaching," she said. "I will say, however, that has improved greatly this year."

EES guidance counselor Anna Marie Moore addressed mental health and how it contributes to testing.

"I taught for six years at the high school in the junior high before last year moving to the elementary school as counselor when Mrs. Martin became principal," Moore said. "I was gung ho about implementing motivation and the things I was going to do and all the classroom guidance I could provide, but the reality is...I can't break it down for you just how much the amount of my time is spent in response and intervention and what is going on in the school any given day."

She said as much as all have plans of what they want to do, it is just responding to the kids and their needs.

"They [the students] have to be stable in order to learn," Moore said.

Since students returned to school on Jan. 5th after Christmas break, Moore said she had enrolled eight new students at EES, and all but one has some sort of learning need. She said some have individual learning plans or a 504 plan, two are deemed homeless, one came to Elba reading two words per minute, etc. Some have medications they need.

Another challenge Moore exemplified was that of a student with an EL plan because of a language barrier with the dad able to speak no English. She said this student basically missed his whole kindergarten year, and upon being enrolled in a school in California is August [before coming to Elba in January], the student was just placed in the first grade.

Another student example was a student that missed a whole year of school, not the COVID year, and Elba is now the students fifth school to be enrolled in this school year.

"Many of these students are in the same grade too," Moore said. "That is a lot on those teachers."

Moore said some other issues the school faces daily are homelessness, and truancy. She said it is important for kids to be at school, and the faculty recognizes that, which is why attendance awareness is a big goal for EES.

"We also have a lot of students that have experienced some sort of trauma," Moore said. "This is something many other cannot relate to. Often this ends up being something more than the school counselor can handle, and those students have to be referred for additional counseling. I am glad we have a program in place for this."

Making sure students on medications are taking those meds is another mental health related thing the school deals with on a daily basis. Also, she said hygiene plays into the equation.

"All these things contribute to learning," Moore said. "We have to find all the missing pieces and find the right interventions to help make things fall into place for these students. When that happens, growth occurs."

Moore said the school would love to see more parent involvement. She said it is important for parents to realize the importance of their children to be in school to learn.

"Students are learning something in the classroom every day," Moore said. "If they are out, they are missing something. We have a lot of good kids at Elba Elementary School, and I am really proud of them."

Another area addressed in the presentation was special education, and Melissa Grantham spoke to the board on this matter.

"From the special education side of it, I wanted to give you all some data you may not be aware of," she said.

Grantham said she pulled some statistics of her own. She said she compared Elba with several of the surrounding schools for her data.

"I know we are doing what we can, and I felt the grade wasn't showing that," she said. "Our poverty level at Elba is 62.8 percent. Of the surrounding schools, we have the highest poverty level. That doesn't surprise anyone working in the schools because we see the evidence every day."

Also, Grantham said Elba's special education population is 16.21 percent.

"We have a higher special education population than any of the surrounding schools," she said. "So, in comparison to test scores, these students have an IEP [Individual Education Plan] because they have a learning disability. They are already not on grade level, but when we test in the Spring for ACAP their scores count just like any other student on that test."

Grantham said by taking that into account, it makes sense that Elba would have a higher challenge on the state test compared to the surrounding schools because it has a higher special education population.

"I think that is very important to know," she said.

However, she said the recent i-Ready diagnostic test showed the growth all have been talking about despite these challenges.

"We just did i-Ready, and everyone grew in reading an all but five grew in math," Grantham said. "Our scores may not skyrocket with that population, but all we can hope for is growth. We are working our butts off, hoping for growth, and we did it last week [with i-Ready results]."

What else is the school doing to work towards student growth in testing. Martin said the school has changed some programs around, changed some scheduling, implemented the i-Ready diagnostic testing, and changed its core reading program.

"I think we are going to see some really good changes with that," she said.

Sasha O'Neal, the school reading specialist, addressed intervention.

"I taught 18 or 19 years [at Elba] before I decided to come out of the classroom and do something else," O'Neal said. "The Response to Instruction [RTI] intervention is something that is really helping."

Prior to last year, she said the school did not have much of an intervention program to help students. She said the school has been blessed to be able to hire an interventionist to move the students from where they were to where they now are in learning.

"We meet monthly to discuss the students and what they need," O'Neal said. "If they are consistently struggling with reading or math, they are pulled for intervention for at least 6-8 weeks or longer if needed."

She said intervention is strictly for students at least two grade levels or more below where they should be.

"We feel we are moving in right direction when it comes to intervention and helping those students who have been struggling for so long," O'Neal said. "The new core reading program is very difficult and rigorous, and we are finding ourselves taking steps back to meet students where they are in classroom to be able to help them, but it is working."

The leadership team also holds date meetings.

"We are very proud of our middle of the year data," O'Neal said. "We grew 100 percent in reading and 70 percent in math across the board [on the i-Ready diagnostic test]. When things fall into place and we are on track and the students are on track, we see that growth."

With intervention now in place at the school, she said the teachers and administrators are seeing a huge difference.

Comparing the i-Ready diagnostic tests from Fall [August] to the recent Winter diagnostics [January], Martin said the growth trending in the right direction.

In math, she said EES originally had 34 students at three grade levels or more below and that number dropped to 14 with the recent diagnostic results. In August, 93 students were two grade levels below in math, but in January that dropped to 34; one grade level below in math increased to 211 from 196 due to the other improvements; on grade level in math increased from 25 to 66 students; and above or beyond grade level in math increased from 8 students to 31 students.

In reading, Martin said the recent i-Ready diagnostic test showed 100 percent growth from August to January.

Students three or more grade levels below in reading decreased from 39 to 18; two grade levels below decreased from 54 to 32; one grade level below improved from 203 to 139; at grade level improved from 43 to 100 students; and above or beyond grade level increased from 19 to 69 students.

"We are seeing growth," Martin said. "I am proud of what we are doing. We just want to see it keep going in that direction."

"Unfortunately, we all have a time and appointment with death," the Coroner Woodham said.

He noted the weekend prior to the Jan. 23rd commission meeting had been a busy one for the coroner's office in Coffee County.

During remarks from commissioners, District Two Commissioner Kim Ellis said he had been serving for about 12 years on the SARCOA board.

"I am resigning my post at the [upcoming] board meeting, and I have nominated Rod Morgan to take my place on that board," Ellis said.

He then put that nomination in the form of a motion and received a second to the motion from Commissioner Tom Grimsley. The motion passed by unanimous consent.

District Five Commissioner Jimmy Jones noted that he had met with the hospital board in Enterprise, and he said administrators and doctors there said they were seeing more COVID-related patients. Jones encouraged all citizens to vigilant about COVID to help stop continued spread of the illness.

The next Coffee County Commission meeting will be Monday, Feb. 13, at 9 a.m. in the community room of the county complex in New Brockton.

tournaments include (both 10U and 12U): Elba, Samson, Kinston, New Brockton, and Zion Chapel.

Local basketball fans are encouraged to support their favorites teams during these tournaments.

Looking beyond basketball, youth baseball/softball registration is underway now for Elba Parks and Recreation. This is an online process at elba.recedesk.com.

Parents registering their child or children to play youth baseball/softball in Elba should create an account online [at the web address above] - then after creating the account, be sure to answer all prompted questions to register the child(ren). Failure to fill out the registration form completely could void the registration process.

The deadline for baseball/softball registration is Tuesday, Feb. 14th.

Healing Projects to Help You Cope with Grief

Different people cope with grief in different ways. One way you might consider channeling your bereaved emotions is through a hands-on project, something that lets you turn your negative feelings into something concrete and beautiful. A project can be immensely therapeutic, and it can help you effectively manage stress and anxiety.

There are many different projects you could take on. One common example is to plant a tree. Devote a warm Saturday morning to digging a hole and planting your sapling; devote this new life to the memory of your deceased loved one.

Creative expression can also be invaluable. Maybe this means writing a poem to honor your loved one. Maybe it means composing a song. Or maybe it means painting, drawing, or sculpting. There's no wrong answer here. The important thing is to find something that sounds fun and therapeutic to you.

Another option is to create a memory box. In it, you can place photos and mementos to help you keep your loved one's spirit near and dear. Memory boxes can be great places to store cremated remains and cremation keepsakes, too.

Note that some of these projects can be taken on solo, but others may be good group activities—allowing you and your family members to process grief together. The memory box idea can be a good one to do with kids, allowing them a tactile and creative way to remember their deceased loved one.

These projects can all be helpful for improving your mental and emotional health, and for giving you a constructive outlet for grief. Start thinking about a project you'd like to take on as you navigate this healing journey.

PASTOR'S CORNER

by Dwight Johnson, Pastor
Elba First Assembly of God

According to the label, it was "Classic Gray," but it sure did look black. My plans for staining some wood seemed uncertain, at least by the look of things. But, "When all else fails, read the instructions." If I wanted the desired result, I would have to take the time to "Stir well before and during application." So, I did. It was thick at the bottom, and harder to stir. But as I did, swirls of gray began to appear. Soon afterward, it was easier to stir, and all turned gray. Brushed on the board, the stain was a deep, rich, beautiful gray! Stirring the stain was the key to success.

When we think of getting "stirred up," we often think of things that make us angry or agitated. But, there is a positive side of being stirred. Paul wrote to young Timothy, admonishing him to "stir up the gift of God." (2 Timothy 1:6). Paul saw that Timothy had potential. He saw that there was something in Timothy that could be a blessing and a benefit to others, if he would allowed himself to be stirred. But, if he was satisfied with complacency and the status quo, his potential would settle to the bottom, and his life's beauty would never be seen.

Let me challenge you to be stirred. Be stirred by the needs of others. Be stirred by those who are helpless, and feel hopeless. Be stirred enough to pray, and to get involved. If you aren't stirred, you'll be okay. But, your potential will settle, and neither you nor others will ever know the beauty that could have been.

Seniors age 60 and older encouraged to get active with Elba Senior Center

Seniors age 60 and older are encouraged to attend the Elba Senior Citizens Center.

Along with nutritious meals five days a week, the director works with seniors to help them apply for several programs they may qualify, including Farmers Market Vouchers, HRDC- Energy Assistance, Food Assistance, Medicaid Waiver, Senior Rx Program, Medicare Savings Program, etc. Seniors must be an active participant at the Elba Senior center for the director to sign them up for the qualifying programs.

To become a center participant, attendance is not based on income. This is a social place to come have fun and find or make new friends. If interested in joining the center stop by or call (334) 897-3019. The center is located at 304 N. Factory Ave. (across from the Elba Police Department).

Seniors age 60 and older that cannot come to the center may qualify for meals being brought to their home.

For questions, call center director Donna Falls at (334) 897-3019.

to revive the old foghorns. After three weeks, the U.S. Coast Guard gave in, and a compromise was reached. If the city would pay for their operation, a couple of the old foghorns would be reactivated.

The Sanhedrin believed that a stern warning followed by a severe beating would silence the apostles. These men had become noisy reminders of an embarrassing, recent past. The Sanhedrin thought they could get rid of them by dealing with them as they had dealt with Jesus, but the Sanhedrin did not take in to account the faith of the Apostles. These followers of Jesus knew He was alive, and they could not be silenced. Can the same be said of us? - C.R.B.

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

We had both grandsons over at the house Friday night and while Lawson stayed busy on his laptop, Cannon kept us busy trying to keep him in a good mood and finding things for him to look at. The basketball game on TV and the blinking lights on the valentine tree were his favorites, but he also enjoyed keeping an eye on the puppy and the funny faces his Nanny and I kept making. I guess the younger members of the family help keep us young.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers fell to 2-6 in the area standings early in the week with a loss to Brantley, but rebounded late in the week with wins over Wicksburg and Samson to improve their record to 15-12. The fifteen wins are the most in a number of years for the Tigers, with eleven of the wins coming against 2A and 3A foes in what has turned into an amazing season. It may be true Elba turns the ball over a few dozen times a game and fires up three-pointers from all over the court. However, there is never a dull moment when the Tigers are on the court and with only two seniors on the roster it looks like even more fun on the court in years to come. The Lady Tigers posted wins over Brantley and Wicksburg early in the week to run their winning streak to eight games, but were knocked off by Samson late in the week as the eighth-ranked Lady Tigers saw their record move to 18-5. Elba missed nineteen free throws in the loss to Samson and may have been a victim of their own success as they never really seemed in full 'attack mode' until the fourth quarter. I know the girls never like to lose, but the late-season loss should make them even more determined as they chase the area title and the home court advantage in the post-season.

 The area tournaments are right around the corner and for area fans that means it is crunch time. On the boy's side of the bracket, in Class 1A, Area 2 it looks like Brantley and Florala will be the top two teams, while Kinston will face the second seed in the opening round and Elba will play Houston County for the right to move on and challenge the regular season champs. From where I sit it looks like Brantley and Florala are clearly the teams to beat, while Kinston could play the role of spoiler. In Class 2A, Area 4, Luverne and Highland Home have been the dominant teams all season and should continue to stay at the top in the tournament, but keep an eye on Zion Chapel, because the Rebels never expect to lose. Up in Class 3A, Area 4, Opp and Pike County may be the favorites to advance, but New Brockton is much better than its record indicates and could pull off an upset. On the girl's side of the page, in Class 1A, Area 2, the Elba Lady Tigers are definitely the team to beat and many think have a legitimate chance at making a run all the way to the Final Four, while Brantley and Florala are next in the pecking order, but appear just a step behind. In Class 2A, Area 4, Luverne is without a doubt the top team in the four-team race, with Highland Home coming in close behind, but ahead of Zion Chapel and Goshen. Up in Class 3A, Area 4, Pike County has been a solid team all season and has to be the team to beat, while New Brockton looks like the best bet to finish in the number two spot and advance to sub-region play, ahead of Daleville and Opp. Yep, it has been a fun season. However, the real fun is just getting ready to start.

 Elba High was the place to be last week for a couple of the nation's top college football coaches as Alabama's Nick Saban dropped by Thursday morning and Florida State coach Mike Norvell flew in on a helicopter Friday morning. Both visits were to talk with Tiger standout running back Alvin Henderson, rated as one of the nation's top recruits, and there is no doubt more coaches will be in town in the days and weeks to come. The coaches may have to look at a map to find our small town, but Elba is fast becoming a place to visit.

 Last Thursday marked the 40th anniversary of the death of former Alabama head football coach Bear Bryant and as part of the remembrance TYV personality Paul Finebaum talked with a number of former Crimson Tide coaches and players, including former Elba Tiger Russ Wood, who was a starter on Bryant's final team that handed him a win in his last game at the Liberty Bowl. Russ gave a heartfelt look back at the day Coach Bryant passed away, and it was easy to understand just how much Coach Bryant meant to Russ, and all the other callers.

 In closing.... The high school baseball and softball seasons are just around the corner and here in Elba both the JV and varsity teams have been trying to get in some work despite the fact many starters on both teams are still running up and down the basketball court. I have a feeling both teams have a chance at posting winning seasons, and whole they may start off a little slow due to the seasons running into each other, the fun doesn't really start until the weather warms up and area play begins.

For 15th win of season

Elba Tigers slam Samson 77-22

The Elba Tigers bounced back from an early week loss to Brantley 67-56 to claim wins over Wicksburg 63-51 and Samson 77-22 to push their win total for the season to 15, and improve their season record to 15-12.

Following is a recap of last week's basketball action:

Brantley 67 Elba 56

The Elba Tigers continued their area woes with a 67-56 home court loss to the Brantley Bulldogs.

Brantley came out ready to play and behind the play of Daylan Davis jumped out to a 9-0 lead only one minute into the game. A three-pointer by Cameron Gray with 5:10 remaining in the quarter pulled the Tigers within 9-5, but a three-pointer by Davis put the Bulldogs back in charge and Brantley added three more baskets from behind the arc in the stanza to open up a 25-14 lead.

Brantley opened the second quarter on an 8-4 run to stretch its lead to 33-18 with 3:09 left in the stanza and despite late three-pointers by Elba's Cayden Adkins and Ty Sieving, the Bulldogs went in at the half with a 37-24 advantage.

Brantley quickly upped its lead to 45-27 in the third quarter after a three-pointer by Jayden Parks and Elba was never able to cut into the deficit as the Tigers trailed 52-39 heading into the final stanza.

The Tigers made a run early in the fourth quarter behind the scoring punch of Cameron Gray and closed to within 53-49 with 4:36 remaining on the clock, but Brantley used a 4-0 run to up its lead to 57-49 and Jayden Parks scored seven points in the closing minutes to help the Bulldogs remain unbeaten in area play as they handed the Tigers the 67-56 defeat.

Cameron Gray scored 10 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Alvin Henderson 8, Ty Sieving 7, Jamal Siler 7, Cayden Adkins 7, Cody Gray 6, Jacob Watkins 4, JT Coleman 3 and Taylon Purvis 3. Keldric Brown scored 18 points and Jayden Parks added 16 to lead Brantley, while also scoring for the Bulldogs were Daylan Davis 14, Robert Shine 6, Jayles Tyson 4, Jordan Parks 3, Jon Bush 3 and Jackson Mitchell 3.

Elba 63 Wicksburg 51

The Elba Tigers took charge in the second half to claim a hard fought 63-51 road win over the Wicksburg Panthers.

Elba saw an early 12-5 first quarter lead evaporate as Wicksburg closed the quarter on a 13-0 run to grab an 18-12 advantage, and the Panthers ever lost command in the second stanza and at the half was still on top 30-27. The Tigers began to heat up behind the arc in the third quarter and behind the play of Cody Gray and Cameron Gray pulled ahead midway through the quarter and never looked back as they ran away with the win.

Cody Gray scored 20 points and Cameron Gray added 15 to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Ty Sieving 5, Jacob Watkins 5, Brayden Johnson 4, Cayden Adkins 4, JT Coleman 4, Alvin Henderson 3 and Taylon Purvis 3. Gabe Glover led the Panthers with 18 points.

Elba 77 Samson 22

The Elba Tigers raced out to a 27-2 first quarter lead and never looked back rolled to a lopsided 77-22 win over the Samson Tigers, on 'Senior Night' at Elba High.

Cody Gray and Taylon Purvis drained early three-pointers to stake the Tigers to an 8-2 lead, while Cameron Gray, JT Coleman and Jamal Siler took turns putting points on the scoreboard during a 22-0 run as Elba carried a 27-4 lead into the second stanza. Elba stretched its lead to 37-5 with 5:19 left in the half on a basket by Brayden Johnson, and when Alvin Henderson converted a fast break basket with 1:41 left the Tigers lead was up to 47-7. The Tigers carried a 52-10 advantage in at the half and never slowed down in the third quarter as a 10-3 run upped their lead to 62-13, and the fans from both sides headed to the exits early in the final stanza as Elba mopped up the 77-22 win.

JT Coleman scored 18 points and Jacob Watkins added 16 to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Cameron Gray 13, Taylon Purvis 10, Cody Gray 6, Jamal Siler 6, Brayden Johnson 6 and Cayden Adkins 2.

Elba Tiger JV add three wins, up record to 17-1

The Elba Tigers hit the court three times last week in junior varsity action and posted three exciting wins to improve their record to 17-1.

Following is a recap of last week's action:

Elba 49 Brantley 40

The Elba Tigers pulled ahead early and held on late to post a 49-40 win over the Brantley Bulldogs.

Javante Griggs scored 9 points in the first half to help Elba carry a 23-11 lead in at the half, while Emmanuel Cooks scored 7 points in the fourth quarter to help turn back a late Brantley rally as the Tigers held on for the 49-40 win.

Javante Griggs scored 16 points to lead Elba, while also coring for the Tigers were Emmanuel Cooks 9, Brady Johnson 7, Kalil Magwood 6, Jordan Hammonds 6, Jonathan Edwards 3 and Cassidy Carpenter 2. Welch scored 10 points to lead Brantley.

Elba 51 Wicksburg 46

Elba's Emmanuel Cooks scored with four seconds left in regulation on an in-bound play to send the game into overtime and the Tigers took charge in the extra period to escape with a 51-46 win over the Wicksburg Panthers.

It appeared the Tigers had blown a big lead late in the final stanza, but Cooks' late basket gave them a second chance and propelled the Tigers to the exciting road win.

Javante Griggs scored 19 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Jordan Hammonds 9, Emmanuel Cooks 7, Kalil Magwood 5, Matthew McCart 4, Jonathan Edwards 3, Cassidy Carpenter 2 and Skylar Mitchell 2.

Elba 48 Samson 31

The Elba Tigers pulled away from a four-point halftime advantage to defeat the Samson Tigers 48-31.

Elba owned a slim 23-19 lead at the half, but broke loose in the second half and pulled away to post the big win.

Kalil Magwood scored 19 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Jonathan Edwards 9, Emmanuel Cooks 6, Jordan Hammonds 5, Cassidy Carpenter 5, Matthew McCart 2 and Skylar Mitchell 2.

Lady Tigers remain unbeaten in area play

The Elba Lady Tigers rolled to a pair of wins early in the week over Brantley 59-31 and Wicksburg 59-46 to run their winning streak to eight games, but then saw the streak come to an end on Friday night with a 46-44 home court loss to Samson.

Following is a recap of last week's action:

Elba 59 Brantley 31

The Elba Lady Tigers remained undefeated in area action and sophomore sensation A'Lyric Whitfield went over the 1,000-point mark in her career in an impressive 59-31 home court win over the Brantley Lady Bulldogs.

Brantley grabbed an early 6-4 lead behind the play of Myia Mount and was still on top 13-12 with 1:15 left in the quarter after a three-pointer by Coco Stamps. However, Kendra Juarez sparked a late Elba rally that put the Lady Tigers ahead 16-13 at the end of the stanza, and the Lady Tigers then opened the second quarter with a 5-0 run to up their lead to 21-13 with 5:09 still left in the quarter. Brantley added only one basket the entire quarter and misfired on 5 of 7 free-throw attempts, while A'Lyric Whitfield and Juarez remained hot as at the half Elba went in with a 30-17 advantage.

A'Lyric Whitfield and Ayrika Caldwell both hit long three-pointers early in the third quarter as the Lady Tigers used a 12-1 run to take a commanding 42-18 lead with 3:59 left in the stanza. Elba used an 11-0 run to stretch its lead to 53-23 early in the final stanza and coasted in with the big 59-31 area win over the Lady Bulldogs.

A'Lyric Whitfield scored 27 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were Kendra Juarez 13, Tajah Purvis 10, Ana Caldwell 4, Ayrika Caldwell 3, Brooke Tinsley 1 and Yada Caldwell 1. Coco Stamps scored 15 points to lead Brantley, while also scoring for the Lady Bulldogs were Myia Mount 9, AC free 6 and Alex Grimes 1.

Elba 59 Wicksburg 46

The Elba Lady Tigers pulled away in the fourth quarter to claim a tough 59-46 road win over the Wicksburg Lady Panthers.

Kendra Juarez and Yada Caldwell combined for six points in the opening quarter to help Elba open up a 12-9 lead, while Tajah Purvis scored five points in the second stanza as the Lady Tigers went in at the half with a slim 21-19 advantage. Alayvia Stinson and A'Lyric Whitfield combined for nine points in the third quarter as the Lady Tigers lead grew to 34-31, and Elba exploded for 25 points in the final stanza, led by 12 points from Whitfield, to pull away and claim the road win.

A'Lyric Whitfield scored 21 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were Tajah Purvis 9, Ny'Asia McCollough 8, Alayvia Stinson 7, Yada Caldwell 6 and Brooke Tinsley 4. Kelsey Ellenburg and Bella Sanders scored 16 points, apiece, to lead Wicksburg.

Samson 46 Elba 44

The Elba Lady Tigers saw a late lead vanish in the final 17-seconds in a wild 46-44 loss to the Samson Lady Tigers, in a hotly contested contest in which the two longtime rivals were whistled for total of 49 fouls and attempted a total of 63 free throws.

Samson jumped out to an early 4-0 lead and despite the hot shooting of Elba's Tajah Purvis carried a 14-7 advantage into the second quarter. Samson upped its lead to 17-7 early in the second stanza and owned a 20-11 lead with 2:43 left in the half, but Elba rallied behind the play of A'Lyric Whitfield and Ny'Asia McCollough to pull within 20-18, and trailed only 22-18 at intermission.

Lady Tiger A'Lyric Whitfield scored Elba's first seven points of the third quarter as Elba grabbed its first lead of the night at 25-24, but Samson responded and went on a 9-0 run to go ahead 33-25 with 1:58 remaining in the quarter. Whitfield got hot again late in the quarter as the Lady Tigers pulled within 33-31 heading into the fourth quarter, and Elba used a 10-0 run early in the stanza to take a 41-36 lead with 3:18 left on the clock. Samson again rallied and moved back on top 42-41 with 1:13 remaining, but Elba's Ana Caldwell and A'Lyric Whitfield combined to connect on 3 of 4 free throw attempts to put the Lady Tigers back ahead 44-42 with only 37-seconds left on the clock. A three-pointer with 17-seconds left put Samson back on top 45-44 and this time Elba had no answer as the Lady Tigers lost 46-44.

A'Lyric Whitfield scored 31 points to lead Elba, which hit only 10 of 29 free throw attempts, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were Tajah Purvis 6, Brooke Tinsley 2, Alayvia Stinson 2, Ny'Asia McCollough 2 and Ana Caldwell 1. Brantley Edberg and Shaylei Mock both scored 15 points for Samson, which hit only 10 of 34 free throw opportunities.

REACH FOR THE STARS... Reach for the Stars is a volunteer service recognition program approved by the State Master Gardener Board of Directors. Participation in the program is an option for each local association and all are encouraged to participate. The purpose of the program is to recognize Master Gardeners who have assisted the Alabama Cooperative Extension Service in educating and improving their communities and to encourage Master Gardeners to keep records and report volunteer hours. Recorded hours are utilized in justifying the resources expended by ACES to educate and train Master Gardeners. The Coffee County Master Gardener's Association recognized award winners for 2022 at its recent meeting. Jacque Hawkins, membership chair, made the presentations based on hours recorded - Bronze Star 100-299 hours and Silver Star 300-499 hours. Those pictured above include (from left): Rodney Penuel - Bronze and Silver Star; Vanessa Allen - Silver Star; Wanda Maddox - Silver Star; and Hawkins. Not pictured were Melanie Smith - Silver Star, and Anne Edwards - Gold Name Badge [1,000 - 1,999 hours].

FLEMING VERIFIED AS MASTER GARDENER... Alabama Cooperative Extension Service (ACES) Regional Agent Megan Jones recently presented Georgia Fleming, a member of the Coffee County Master Gardener's Association, with a certificate which read "Alabama Master Gardener is conferred on Georgia Fleming by ACES, Alabama A&M University and Auburn University. This certificate is awarded upon completion of the required course of study and the fulfillment of 50 hours of required volunteer service." Shown above (from left) is Georgia Fleming and Megan Jones. Individuals interested in becoming a Master Gardener should contact the Coffee County Extension Service, 334-894-5596, to inquire about the next training session.
